“ Jerry and I are the two youngest children of all the Davis siblings, so my entire life holds memories of him. Our families were very close, and we spent a lot of time together. The saying, "Your cousins are your first best friends" is true, although he was more like a brother to my brother and me and another son to our mom. Work took him 700 miles away, but we always enjoyed his and Dorothy's visits back to Ohio. Though we were miles apart, he was always close to our hearts. He faithfully called his Aunt Nell every Sunday afternoon. Mom always kept up on the latest weather system coming through Mississippi, and she would call me and report on whatever storm or system was going to "hit Jerry and Dorothy." I will miss the phone calls and hearing "HI CUZ!", his laugh, the familiarity of our conversations and memories. Jerry, thanks for teaching me to never give up. I've loved you my entire life, and you will always be close to my heart.
