“ I was so hesitant to write on this tribute wall because it still does not feel real.

What began as a friendship at the start of our careers grew into 13 years of sisterhood. No matter how near or far we were, we always stayed connected, as if we were only minutes apart. We walked through so many of life's highs and lows together, encouraging and supporting one another every step of the way.

I loved watching our children grow up and seeing our families continue to grow. I always admired your unwavering dedication to your family, your children, and our sisterhood. Those were just a few of the many things that made you so special.

I am especially grateful that we were able to spend time together one last time just days before your passing. One memory I will always cherish is being able to bring you one of your favorite treats, a Birthday Cake Pop from Starbucks. It may seem like a small thing, but I am thankful I was able to share that moment with you. Even then, your strength and resilience shined through.

Jon, you are deeply missed. It is hard to believe there will be no more FaceTime calls lighting up my phone from you and the kids. I still find myself wanting to reach out, wanting to hear your voice, wanting this to be anything other than true.

Thank you for 13 years of friendship, love, laughter, and sisterhood. I will carry those memories with me always.

Until we meet again, my chosen sister.

“ Jonnitta and I were friends in high school and college roommates. We did everything together! She is such a sweet soul and we've always been cool. I'm so sad that I won't be able to laugh and joke with her like old times. I really regret not trying harder to keep in touch. I believe in God and I believe he is in control so I will not question the decision, but we really lost a great person. My prayers to everyone.

This hurts so much because she was such a good person. Her classmates are all hurting right now. Here’s a couple pictures of us from high school* ”
